

They need to add two menus, one named Line, Contains 2 sub items Color and Style.

The Color sub item contains three values, Red, Green, Blue when choosing one; this will change the line of the chart.

The Style sub item contains three values: Solid, Dash, Dotted. When choosing one; this will change the line style of the chart.

The other menu is named Rectangle, Contains 2 sub items Color and Style.

The Color sub item contains three values, Red, Green, Blue when choosing one; this will change the Bars of the chart.

The Style sub item contains three values: Right, Left, and Cross. When choosing one; this will change the bar style of the chart.

These 2 menus (Line, Rectangle) may appear when making a right click (if the click in the chart region, this will invoke Rectangle menu, otherwise, the line menu).

Note: When opening the menus and before selecting the new item, the existing value of line color, line style, bar color, bar style must have a bullet beside it
